

Army Staff Sgt. Shannon L. Carter, NBC NCOIC, HHC, 8th Army; Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Scott D. Gaines, intel. specialist, Navel Forces Korea and Marines Sgt. Charles B Peoples, G-3 NCO, Marine Forces Korea lay a wreath, at the Dabudong and Wegwan battles memorial.

Tour participants view the wreath-laying ceremony at the Korean War memorial.

Army Sgt. Rachel Leonard, electronic repairman, HHC 5-27 MI, gets a flyer from a Buddhist monk at Pulguksa temple. The participants viewed a Buddhist service involving thousands of devout Koreans.

A curvy, mountainous trail led the participants to the Sokkuram grotto.

A guide shows the tour participants one of Samsung's new products.

Millennium Club takes NCOs on Kyongju tour

Text and photos by Sgt. Russell C. Bassett

The Millennium Club, which consists of twenty of Korea's leading businessmen, hosted a tour for for 120 U.S. E-5s and E-6s stationed in Korea on Oct. 8 through Oct. 10. The event included trips to a Buddhist temple, the Korean Folk Village, the Samsung electronics and Posco steel factories and a Korean War memorial. The tour culminated with a catered dinner in Seoul. Several of the club's members and many of the military's top Korean and U.S. officials attended the diner.

The participants viewed a traditional dance ceremony at the Korean Folk Villiage.